A New Format

February 2021

Hi there! Surprise! I bet you didn't expect to hear from us at this time. 😄 We are so glad to have you on our team! Thank you for your care and prayer.

This letter is a "test-run" for something we may start sending out more frequently to you since you are part of our core team of donors and prayer partners. We really want to try and do a better job of keeping you informed with what's going on in the ministry and in our family.

We intend to try and keep this as short as possible while still giving you regular updates on how things are going. This particular edition will probably be longer than most. We would love to hear your feedback on it.

FAMILY UPDATES

We continue to homeschool the kids. (and ourselves vicariously 😄) We're working on learning French (this is hard but Youtube helps), math (yay for fractions!) and writing. In fact, the kids will be working on making their very own magazine over the next few months.

Ben is currently in grade 8 and Julia is grade 6. Most of the time though we're teaching them the same content. Carolanne does a great job of keeping them on track, alternating between math days (when we focus on math) and reading/writing days.

Julia has been working on building a series of comics lately called "Mustard Man!" We may even feature some in upcoming editions. Stay tuned!!!

Ben has been getting into woodworking, making great use of my tools. Swords, shields, daggers and various helpful household items have begun to appear.

Both kids also have lots of fun playing with and training Hershey, our 1 year old Yorkshire Terrier. At 5lb, he's the smallest dog I've ever owned and we all love him dearly. (most of the time 😄)

MINISTRY STATUS

It has been amazing to see lately how God has been using our ministry to reach people around the world. This map shows just a small snapshot of the locations for people we are connecting with lately.

These days we are focused on developing our outreach strategies with several partners in India. We are also translating and preparing to launch an outreach strategy in China. I find it so cool and encouraging that God is able to use my tiny efforts to help reach so many people in countries I've never visited and in languages I don't even speak.

Thank you for helping us continue to serve with P2C :: Digital Strategies!

PRAYER REQUESTS

1. For more technical staff to join our team.
2. For our new Chinese site that is in process of being built.
3. For our Farsi staff that are developing translated training for new Farsi speaking mentors to Iran.
